Native American Fatherhood and Families Association (NAFFA) has been awarded a two-year grant from Gila River Indian Community State Shared Revenue Program to provide direct services through our new SAFE Parent Resource Center.

One component of the grant provides twelve scholarships, at a value of $1,800 each, for community service professionals to attend a three-day NAFFA training to become a certified facilitator in our Fatherhood Is Sacred™ Motherhood Is Sacred™ curriculum. The expectation would be that the facilitator would then facilitate a FIS/MIS group for veterans who are parents that will run for twelve two hour sessions two times over the next year. The grant requires that the groups be held in Mesa, but are open to parents, grandparents, foster parents and other family members of all cultures and backgrounds. NAFFA will provide the training and materials at no cost to your agency.

The FIS/MIS program has proven to be very effective in helping parents to grow healthy and strong families among Native and non-Native communities.

If you want to nominate one of your staff to attend the facilitator training to be held August 13 to 15 from 8:00 to 5:00 at our office in Mesa, please send me the name of that person.

Thank you,
